PREFACE

Especially are we interested in the origin of our families in America and in their subsequent migrations and activities in the "new world." After more than four years research, we print our findings in the hope that we may stimulate in others an interest and pride of family, which may inspire them to complete a record of their branch of the family, and ultimately solve their relationship, one to the other. We do not say that all embodied in this volume is true, but more

> "I cannot tell how the truth may be;
> I say the tale as 'twas said to me."
> (The Lay of the Last Minstrel.)

In compiling this record we note with interest the traits of character that seem most common to all branches of the Northcutt-Northcott families. Our predecessors were first "God-fearing": we find many preachers among them. They were of an artistic temperament and appreciated the beautiful; above all, they displayed courage as they were soldiers and pioneers of a sturdy stock. Of them we are justly proud.

In copying all data for publication great care was taken to reproduce the original record verbatim. We regret that full information was not furnished us on every family; for errors, whether typographical or incorrectly given, we apologize.

To all who have cooperated we extend our sincere thanks, and to the elder member of the families who have been so generous with their data, and so enthusiastic in their anticipation of its completion, this book is affectionately dedicated.

Dolly Northcutt.

The Northcote Family, County of Devon, England

Lineage—The great antiquity and high respectability of this family are clearly proved by an ancient and copious pedigree, preserved in the College of Arms, accompanied by a great number of family deeds, fines, will, etc., to several of which are affixed their seals of arms; which pedigree is continued down to the Visitation of 1620, in the reign of King James I. The first ancestor we find on record is in the year 1103, being the third year of the reign of King Henry I., when Galfridus Miles had his seat at Northcote, in the parish of East Down, in the Co. of Devon. He was s. by John, his son, styled "Johannes, filius Johannis Galfride Miles, habitantis in Northcote, in parochia de East Down, in Devon; mutavit nomen cum loco." Thus says an ancient record, late in the possession of Thomas Wescote. This John was s. by Galfridus de Northcote, in 1118, of whom it is observed, "Galfridus de Northcote tenet in Northcote unum, foedium de Abbate de Tavistock in manerio de Burington et hundred de North Tawnton." He held lands also in Colston, in Witheridge Hundred, and had two sons, viz., William and Walter . . .

"Northcote Arms—Arg. three cross-crosslets, in bend, sable. Northcote Crest—On a chapeau gu. turned up erm. a stag, trippant, arg. Supporters—two stags ppr., suspended from the neck of each by a chain or an escutheon erm., thereon a pine cone cr. Motto—Christi crux est mea lux. (The cross of Christ is my light.)"

Abbreviations.
Arg.—silver, or white.
gu.—gules, or red.
erm.—ermine.
trippant—walking.

"The family of Northcot—or Norcot, as it was occasionally written in the seventeenth century—is of very old standing in Devonshire. The pedigree preserved at Pynes traces the history of the family to within half a century of the Conquest (1103), when Galfreidus de Northcote was 'Northcot of that ilk,' holding lands near Barnstaple, whence the family name is derived." ("Life of Earl of Iddesleigh by Lang)

The Northcote family continues on to the present day in England. The various Northcote, Northcott, Northcutt, Norcot, and Norcott families in North and South Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Missouri, Alabama, West Virginia and Texas have been told that they descended from the Northcote family of England, some of whom came to America in the early settlements of Virginia. The Northcote lineage is merely shown as a reference to this established family in England, and while we claim no direct kinship, our families are of English descent.

THE NORTHCUTT FAMILY—GEORGIA BRANCH

Fifty years ago Rev. John Robinson Northcutt went to Georgia to get a family record of his family and his wife's (Dorsett) family. Among the following pages is a copy of his letter addressed to his nephew, William George, who had written to him for some family records. About 1922 Elijah H. Northcutt, brother to William George, made an effort to compile a family history but did not succeed because of lack of cooperation from members of the family. Memorandums were found in his Bible recently. The letter written fifty years ago was the chif inspiration for this book, and is now in possession of Mrs. Dollie N. Forman.

The counties of Georgia have changed their boundaries and their names since the Northcutt family came into Oglethorpe County about 1796 from Virginia. From "Historical Collections of Georgia" by White, is a list of some of the counties with a bit of information about each county. This geographical interest is shown as a reference to the places of residence of the Northcutt and Associated families in the early days.

Oglethrope County — Laid out 1793.

Jasper County — Laid out by the name of Randolph in 1807, but changed to Jasper in 1812.

Henry County — Defined by Act of 1821.

Campbell County — Laid out from Coweta, Carroll, De Kalb and Fayette in 1828. Part of Cherokee, 1832. Campbellton is the county site (1854) situated on the Chattahoochee River.
Cobb County — Laid out from Cherokee in 1832.

Chattooga County — Laid out from Walker and Floyd in 1838.

Habersham County — Laid out by the Lottery Act of 1818.

Coweta County — Laid out in 1826, part set off to Campbell in 1828.

Fayette County — A portion of the territory acquired by the United States for the use of the state of Georgia from the Creek Indians by a treaty made at the Indian Spring. Organized 1821.

Gwinnett County — Laid out by the Lottery Act of 1818.
Gilmer County — Laid out from Cherokee in 1832.

Texas Dublin June 21st 1889

W. G. Northcutt Dear Neffew

I read your letter of the 12 Inst. and notice you want to get up a family Record, which I have been trying to do for some time, but have failed to trace the family as far back as desired, your great grandfather came from Ireland to this country some time before the Revolution War, during the war lost his first wife, left him three little boys. They grew up and settled in Kentucky hence all the Northcutts of that vast country sprang from these Brothers. Your great grandfather married the second time. By his last wife raised three children: Alexander, Elijah and Lizzy. Elijah died when about 20 years of age. My father was 16 years old when his father left Virginia and came to Georgia and settled in Oglethorp County. My father there married Lucy Robinson. My Mother had three children and moved to Tennessee from there went to Jackson war, came back to Jasper county, when your father was born in Apr. 13, 1816, moved from Jasper county to Henry county in 1824, from there came to Campbell county in 1828, where he grew up and married. The date of his ordination I have not got, but the Presbytery was Thornton Burk and Parker Rice. I lived in Chattoga County the time, I think your uncle Alfred can give you the date as to your father's Brothers and Sisters. Your grandfather Northcutt died Apr. 1844, Your Grandmother Northcutt died October 2, 1866, 84 years of age.

Your Aunt Eliza Brazel born 1808—Died 1880

Your Aunt Nancy Hicks born 1810—Died June 1864

A. M. Northcutt was born April 13,1818

J. J. Northcutt was born April 13, 1820, died Apr. 26, 1888

Alexander Northcutt Jr. was born March 1822, was killed in the Central R. R. in 1864. L. S. Northcutt was born December 23, 1824, died June 16, 1885, Frances Northcutt was born 1828, died 1882. You will see at a glance our family has been very careless in keeping family records. I was in Georgia last winter and spent a good deal of time trying to get up a family record of my own and my wife's people. I expect you Father's date of birth you all have it one year too young. I am satisfied I have it right. Uncle Alfred had his date one year too young. My intention when in Georgia last Winter to come by to see you. The reason I did not, I had to bring an old Brother Graham that was so feeble I hurried through fast as possible. If I was with you I could tell you a good deal more about your connection than I can write. While in Georgia I went to all the graves of all our connection. Your Father and Sister, Nancy is buried side by side at old Mars Hill. Your Father's grave had a nice tome stone, poor old sister Nancy none. I went to see the large oak in old Baby Carruth's yard, where your father organized old Altoona church under, but could not tell the tree, but my opinion that it has been cut down last winter as a large oak is there with the limbs cut off. The old church is all most gone down, I tried to preach to them one Sunday. I learned that they have no regular preaching there. My people are already claiming another visit from me this coming fall if my health will admit the undertaking I may go. If I should I will try to come by and see you. If you should think I could give you any more information let me hear from you and I will do the best I can. Please write to me now and then. Crops tolerable promising, old corn 15 to 20 cents, threshed oats 15. All the connection in good health, Your friend and uncle

Excerpts from "The First Hundred Years," A Short History of Cobb Co., Ga., by Temple.

Pioneer Families.

. . . it has been possible to prove the residence of a few people in the pioneer period. While it is regretted that the list is so incomplete and that the names of many people said to be in Cobb in the 1830's cannot be included because their residence cannot be verified, at least we have here a small group known to have settled in Cobb in the pioneer period. Some of them arrived during the last monts of 1832; others were arriving during the remainder of the 1830's. They may all be regarded as pioneer settlers; . . . William Patrick Anderson . . . George Baber . . . Thornton Burke . . . John Durham . . . Toliver Hicks . . . Robert Lemon . . . Charles Pinkney McLain . . . Silas McLain . . . T. T. McLain . . . Joseph Morris . . . Alexander Northcutt . . . James Wigley . . . John R. Winters . . . Samuel Young . . .

William Patrick Anderson came from Newton County to Cobb about 1835 . . . John Durham came to Cobb about 1835 from Spartanburg, S. C. . . . Toliver Hicks was living in Campbell County at the time when land was drawn in the lotteries, but mention is found of the Hicks name . . . in the Franklin County records in 1809 . . . Robert and John Lemon came into Cobb soon after the county was organized . . . The McLains were from Franklin, Raburn, and Gwinnett; mention is also found of the family, the name spelled McClain, in the Franklin County records in 1803 . . .

Alexander Northcutt's name appears in the lottery lists when he drew land lot number 30, 19th dist., 2nd section in Cobb. He was then living in Campbell County. The name was spelled Northcott and also Northcote, at one time, the former being still in use by branches of the family in Virginia, and the latter in use now in England. The Northcutt family evidently settled first in Virginia; mention is found of them later in North and South Carolina, and eventually some of them came to Georgia. The family has many branches in Cobb. The name is one of the best known in the county, descendants of Alexander Northcutt having contributed substantially to the upbuilding of the town of Acworth and Marietta. . .

James Wigley of Coweta drew land in Cobb, lot number 236, 18th district, 2nd section. The name Wigley is also found in Hall and Gwinnett counties . . . George Washington Winters and his son, John R. Winters, moved to Marietta from Jackson County in 1833 . . .

Two of Samuel Young's grandchildren were well-known residents of Cobb County. Emma, the daughter of James Floyd Montgomery and Elizabeth Ann Young, married in 1855 C. P. Haynes . . . William R. (brother to Emma) removed to Cobb from DeKalb about 1850 . . . Hs was one of Marietta's most honored and respected citizens . . . he married Emma, daughter of Jesse J. Northcutt. . .

Rev. Thornton Burke, who came to Cobb from Elbert County in 1833, was largely instrumental in the organization of the Baptist Church in Marietta. (He assisted with the ordination of Rev. Elijah Northcutt).

The business center of Marietta in the 1850's . . . J. J. and J. R. Northcutt's store . . . The store displayed, that spring of 1852, "a most beautiful lot of Summer Cassimeres of the latest styles, table Oil Cloth, table and Piano Covers, Carpet and crum Cloths . . . French and English prints . . . silk gloves" . . . plain and embroidered white crape Shawls and Scarfs" . . . "fine lot of mole, Beaver, Kossuth, Panama, Peel and Chip Hats" . . . "all of which has been selected by Mr. J. J. Northcutt in the Philadelphia and New York markets with a great deal of pains and taste, as we think" . . . The credit system was troubling some of the merchants . . . "We find the long credit system not only destroying the merchants, but ruinous to the farmers," J. J. Northcutt and Company declared . . . Chapter XII.

(In the celebration of Cobb County's centenniel in 1933, many of the descendants of Alexander Northcutt took part).

"The original town of Acworth, Ga. was Proctor, named for an Indian by that name. Proctor Creek was also named for this famous Indian. The first white settlers in this vicinity were James Lemon Sr., E. L. Litchfield, and Alfred M. Northcutt. They, being attracted by the rich soil, settled there in 1835. Before the railroad came, (1842), Alfred M. Northcutt had a store, at the front of which the stagecoaches stopped. When the railroad was built he was the first depot agent." (no other data available) If Madiah was eighteen years old when she married, her birth date would be established as 1778. She may have been the half-sister of Alexander, as the letter shown previously states that Alexander's father married the second time and that Alexander, Elijah and Elizabeth were children by the second marriage.

Frances Northcutt, widow, Oglethorpe Co., Ga., registered to draw in the so-called 1806 Land Lottery. Her Lottery number was 1029. Whether she drew successfully or not is not shown. ("Martha Lou Houston's Reprint of the Ga. Land Lottery," pg. 13)

Frances Northcutt was living in Henry Co., Ga. in 1825 with her son, Alexander, as she witnessed a deed in that year.

It is to be regretted that John R. Northcutt failed to give his grandfather's name, but more extensive research work may establish it. As yet no record has been found in Georgia where a Northcutt Revolutionary soldier drew land, applied for or was granted a pension for his services. From records shown elsewhere, the Northcutt family was in Virginia as early as 1671. As to whether they imigrated from Ireland, Scotland or Wales, is immaterial as they were all parts of England.
More research must be done in Virginia.

The records of Cobb Co., Ga., preceeding the War Between the States, were burned by Sherman on his march to the sea. (See "First Hundred Years" by Sarah Gober Temple.)

War of 1812: "The record show that one, Alexander North cut, surname not borne as Northcutt, served in the War of 1812 as a private in Capt. Moses Thompson's Company, 3rd Regiment, (Coupland's) West Tenn. Militia, his service commenced Jan. 28, 1814 and was ended May 20, 1814. The records indicate that his residence was in Wilson Co., Tenn."
U. S. War Records, Washington, D. C.

The above record is also on file in the Dept. of Archives, Nashville, Tenn. Note the record of his friend, James Lyon Burks, with whom he enlisted. (Robinson Family) the records bear out the statements made by his son, Rev. John Robinson Northcutt, both in his letter and his biography, dictated by himself, although he contradicts himself by saying in the letter that the Northcutts were from Ireland, and his biography 'The Northcutts are of Scotch origin;' which statements are foreign to the Georgia branch of the Northcutt family. The records of the Kentucky branch of the Northcutt family disprove his statement about the three little boys settling in Kentucky, 'hence all the Northcutts of that vast country sprang from these Brothers'. He might have been confused with the story told of the three brothers who came from England to Virginia during the first settlings of Virginia.

REV. JOHN R. NORTHCUTT, Dublin, Texas, from "A Pioneer Texas History."

"This gentleman stands conspicuously forward as one of the first settlers of his locality . . . He is distinctively a pioneer. His parents and grandparents before him were pioneers; their history shows a succession of migrations and a people occupying leading and representative positions, in the various frontier settlements in which they cast their lots . . .

John R. Northcutt was born in Tennessee, January 21, 1814, and when a child was taken by his parents to Georgia, where he was reared in frontier settlements and with no other educational advantage than the primitive schools of the community afforded. His parents were Alexander and Lucy (Robinson) Northcutt, the former a native of the Old Dominion and the latter of North Carolina.

The Northcutts are of Scotch origin. The grandfather of our subject came to this country from Scotland at a date prior to the Revolutionary war and made settlement in Virginia, where he resided a number of years. He left his wife and three little sons there while he joined the army and fought for independence. Returning home on a furlough, he found his wife had died and his little ones were scattered, and while at home he suffered much abuse at the hands of the Tories. He shortly after went back to the army, and continued in the service until the war closed. Subsequently he married again, and by his second wife had two children—a son and a daughter—the son being Alexander, the father of our subject. When Alexander was a youth of sixteen the family moved to Georgia, and there the Revolutionary veteran passed the residue of his life and died. Alexander Northcutt married and moved to Tennessee, and a few years later, when a treaty was made with the Indians, he returned to Georgia and located in Jasper county, where he was a prominent pioneer. While in Tennessee he served in the war of 1812. He was in the battle of Talledega, and also the Horse Shoe battle, the latter in the Creek war. After the treaty had been made with the Indians and another new territory opened, he moved west to Ocmulgee river and pioneered again, opening up a farm and taking the lead in the new settlemnt. But even there he was not satisfied. The spirit of emigration again seized him, and his next migration was to Campbell county, on the Chattahoochee river, where he settled among the Creek Indians and opened another farm.

His next and last move was after the Cherokee purchase, when he selected a location in Cobb County. There, with the aid of his sons, he reclaimed from nature his last farm, and there the stalwart pioneer passed his closing years and died. Both he and his wife were member of the Primitive Baptist church. When the church was divided he left it, while his wife went with the Missionary church and remained a consistent and devoted member of the same until her death. Captain Northcutt, as that worthy pioneer was called, earned the title during his military service. He filled various positions of trust and prominence in the different localities where he had his abiding place, was public-spirited, frank and generous, and was as highly respected as he was well known.

From this succinct review of our subject's parental ancestry we pass now to some mention of the Robinsons, his mother's people. John Robinson, his grandfather was a wealthy farmer and slaveholder of Georgia, and died there. His son, Luke, an uncle of Mr. Northcutt, was a noted Primitive Baptist preacher in Georgia for over forty years; and John Robinson, a brother of Luke, distinguished himself as a member of the Georgia Legislature, where he served twenty-two terms, at the end of that time refusing to serve longer on account of his age. He was a very wealthy man, an owner of many slaves, and was well-known and greatly esteemed throughout Georgia. J. J. Robinson, the youngest son, was a lawyer of marked ability. He came to Texas about 1826 and located in Sabine County, where he remained through life, and where he died during the late war, (1861-1865). He never married. He accumulated a large amount of wealth, and at one time was the owner of many slaves. He, however, had given all his slaves their freedom before the war came on.

The children born to Alexander and Lucy Northcutt numbered twelve, their names in order of birth being herewith given: Elizabeth, Nancy, William, John R., Elijah, Jesse, Alfred, Alexander, Luke, Lucy, Frances, and James.

John R. Northcutt remained with his father, moving about from one frontier settlement to another as above recorded, until April 5, 1835, when having attained his majority a short time before, he left the parental shelter and started out to make his own way in the world . . . After changing his location once or twice, he settled in the Cherokee Indian country before the Indians had been moved from that section, and in Chattahoochee county bought land and made a farm. For nine years he made that place his home. Then he returned to Cobb county, where he followed farming and merchandising until January 1853, at that date removing to Alabama, maintaining his residence in Alabama sixteen years, until his removal to Texas in 1868. In 1851 he was converted and joined the Missionary Baptist church. Soon afterward he began to take an active part in church work, his interest never flagged, and after his return from a hard service in the late war he was ordained a minister and dedicated his life to the service of the Lord. His first regular charge was Pine Grove, Alabama, where he served as pastor until his removal to this State. Before proceeding to his life in Texas, we would revert briefly to his army experience.

In 1861, in Alabama, at the very beginning of the war, Mr. Northcutt raised a company, and as its captain marched to the front . . . They made some long, hard marches, including one beyond Mobile, and were participants in the battle of Shilo. In that noted battle this company lost in killed and wounded about one half its number, among the latter being the captain who received a bullet wound in his right thigh . . .

On coming to Texas in 1868, Mr. Northcutt stopped first on the Brazos river in Hood County, where he remained two years before deciding upon a permanent location. In 1869 he bought a section of wild land in Erath county, and to this place he moved (December 24,) 1870 of the following year. Here he developed a farm and in this same locality he still lives . . . Stephenville was for some time the nearest trading and milling place. He sent to the Brazos for his first breadstuff, and he recalls having paid as high as one dollar and twenty-five cents per bushel for corn . . . All these years he has been more or less interested in farming and raising some stock too . . . From time to time he assisted his sons in obtaining land near him, and of recent years he has divided his holdings with his children, until now of his original six hundred and forty acres he retains only one hundred and sixty, this including the family residence.

. . . During his sojourn in Hood county he preached some twenty miles from home, at a church called Kimble . . . Mr. Northcutt preached in different churches, near and far, going whenever and wherever called and allowing nothing to hinder him from his appointments. He helped to organize Zion Hill church, and occupied its pulpit for two years. Next, he helped to organize Rock Dale church . . . also assisted in the organization of Flat Creek church . . . Later he went to Green Creek, and there at first preached under the trees, the result being an organized church, over which he served as pastor four years. He organized Walnut Creek church and was its regular minister four years . . . His last charge was Live Oak church which he filled four years . . .

For a number of years Mr. Northcutt belonged to the Bosque Association, of which he served as moderator two years . . . It was necessary for a division (of the Bosque Association) and eleven churches withdrew from it, forming . . . the Comanche Association, of which Mr. Northcutt is a member . . . As an organizer of churches and an expounder of the gospel, he has exerted an influence here in Texas that can be measured only by eternity.

. . . Mr. Northcutt was married in his youth to Miss Annie Dorsett, a native of South Caroina, born Jan. 21, 1821, daughter of Elijah and Anna Dorsett, both natives of that State. Her father was a prominent farmer and died in Georgia. A brother of Mrs. Northcutt, Elijah Dorsett, came to Texas at an early day and became prominent in Houston county, where at one time he served as county sheriff. He died in Crockett, (Texas) . . . Briefly the children are as follows: Elijah, who was killed in the battle of Chickamauga; Charlotta; John R. who died at the age of twenty-eight years, left a wife and two children; William M. a resident of Dublin, Texas; Alfred and Jesse, twins, both farmers in Erath County; Luke, a farmer of this county, died and left a wife and five children; F. P., deceased, left a widow and four children; Thomas E., deceased, left a widow and five children; Emma E. is the wife of A. Jones, a farmer; and Robert, also a farmer. Mr. Northcutt now makes his home with his son Jesse . . . "

* * *

His granddaughter Fannie Northcutt George says this settlement where he lived is known by old timers (1938) as the Northcutt settlement. She also states the location of this settlement is seven miles west of Dublin, Texas on Cow Creek. As the children of John R. began to marry he gave each a piece of land, and finally settled eight boys and one girl around him on adjoining farms. Robert remembers that once the ladies of his father's church pieced for him a nice quilt, each lady putting her name on her block. Upon arriving home he and his wife spread it out and admired it.

These bare statements of facts convey no impression of the excitment and tumultous feeling in Cobb County. Already at least one company had begun to drill in preparation for the war which the young men thought was inevitable. The Kennesaw Dragoons, the first military unit organized in the county for war service of which I have found any record, was commanded by F. W. Capers, as captain . . . Luke S. Northcutt, 4th sergeant.

pg. 403

Among the business men in the latter eighteen sixties in Marietta were . . . Benjamin Stripling and W. W. Carrell, groceries, successors to L. S. Northcutt and Company . . .

pg. 444

There was considerable interest in the county fairs. There was not only an Agricultural Association of Cobb County, but in Powder Springs, Acworth, and some of the other towns groups of farmers met regularly . . . Among the life members in 1870 were . . . Luke S. Northcutt.

Luke Simpson Northcutt was a life member of the Presbyterian Church of Marietta, Ga. in which he took a very active part.

The records of the family of William Northcutt was contributed by Mrs. Maude Northcutt Jones, Mr. Randolph Frederick Northcutt, and Mr. William Edward Northcutt. In describing her father, Alexander Moore Northcutt, Mrs. Jones writes: "He was a good Christian man . . . six feet seven inches tall, weighed about two-hundred and twenty-five pounds. He had blue eyes and sandy hair and was 'straight as an arrow' ". She also stated: "I have three daughters who sing. They are in great demand for special services at churches, schools and concerts."

Newspaper, Lubbock, Texas—Jan. 5, 1936

A faded piece of note paper, more than 70 years old, on which was written what proved to be the last letter home of a Confederate veteran, was written by A. E. Northcutt to Rev.

John R. Northcutt, his father, living then near Abernathy, Alabama.

The writer was a member of a company of the 22nd Alabama regiment. His letter was written "near Chattanooga, July 8, 1963."

"Dear Father," the letter reads:

"After a long and tiresome march am setting self to write you a few lines to let you know where we are. We had a very bad time of it, getting here, the road was cut all to pieces and it rained on us every day. We got here the fifth. We marched several nights all night long.

It has been raining for fifteen days or more. We have not bin in a long time and we are all hear without the sine of a tent or fly. The officers has a few, I have never seen such destruction of things as was in the retreat. All the tent flys and cooking utensils and very near every other thing was burnt. All the railroad bridges was burnt and cut down as we came. Ed Gaines is missing in a fight at Shelbyville. We can't tell whether he is killed or taken prisoner. There is thirteen of that company missing. Three of our company deserted on the trip. It is reported in the paper today that the Yankees has got Vicksburg. There is talk of us going to Mississippi, but we can't tell where we will go; if any goes there our division will have to go. We are camped 1½ miles from town. I would be glad if you could come to see up when you get through with your work. Write how you are getting on every way and how Mister Zell's crop looks and whether he got any oats to sow the orchard or not. If he did get him to hall my part up and stack them good so nighing won't pester them and if they sell any, you must see to my part of the fruit for it can be stilled up, it will bring a pile of money.

I would love to see you all but there is no chance. Rite to me often and when you have heard from John. I have not heard from him in a long time. I will write a long letter to you soon.

Your son until death.
E. A. Northcutt."

In a Ft. Worth, (Texas) Star Telegram of 1936 appeared a photograph of thirty-three pioneers of West Texas. The picture, made Aug. 11, 1903, showed four sons of Rev. John R. Northcutt who settled near Dublin, Texas. William, who came to Tex. in 1869; Alfred M., Jesse J., and Robert who came in 1870. They had formerly lived near Abernathy, Alabama.

W. D. Northcutt attended Preacher McClelland's School with his brother, Jerre, and sister, Sally. 1877-78 he attended Texas A. & M. College, this being the second session of the school. Fifty years later, May, 1927, with Lucillus Whaley and E. E. Crain, his classmates, returned for a class reunion; twenty-three of the two hundred students were present, and their Commandant, Major Morris. Graduate of the University of Louisville, (Ky.) War Record: John Alexander Northcutt enlisted in the 1st Georgia State Regiment, Stovall's Brigade, C. S. A.

When John Alexander was living in Kilgore, Tex., and his brother William George in Longview, John, a born pioneer became restless and wanted to move west. The following remarks, passed between the brothers, were overheard by Jerry Northcutt and his friend J. Claude Lacy who were sitting in the store of Jerry's father. "William," said John, "I have decided to move west." In his quiet voice William replied, "Oh, John, don't do that. You know a rolling stone never gathers any moss." Then John in a quick temper replied,

"Well, a settin' hen never gets fat." Mr. Lacy has outlived the above mentioned men and told this story. Had John been more patient his children would have received revenues from oil, for in December, 1930, oil was struck at Kilgore, Texas, and found on the homestead and the farm once owned by him.

"John Northcutt . . . came to Texas at an early date and was one of the early settlers of Briscoe Co., having lived here something like twenty-five years . . . He was one of the charter members of the First Baptist Church of Silverton, and Senior Deacon. He helped to build the church and has been faithful through all of her trials and struggles." Elijah H. was engaged in the mercantile business for many years. Was deacon in the Marietta Baptist Church for more than twenty-five years.
When Elijah H. and his nephew, John Thomas Northcutt, were young boys in Acworth, Ga., they were very diligent and saved up the sum of twenty-five cents apiece. Being taken to town by their elders, they spent their twenty-five cents on a pocketbook. This was a short while after the War between the States and of course they had had no money to put in these pocketbooks. Both recalled the incident and laughed heartily about it in after years.

It is a pleasure to publish the following poem:

"OCTOBER"

Of all the months within the year,
You October are my queen;
Some say you're void of cheer
Is it true that they have seen?

Your beautiful dress of red and gold,
Trimmed with shades so rare,
Nature has dared her wealth unfold,
And crowned you with loving care.

Stately mountains for your throne,
'Neath a palace of sky so blue;
Princely pines—long since grown,
Are enthralled while guarding you.

Soon you'll weary of your reign,
When you go my thought will sober,
But memory says you'll come again,
Do dear charming October.

signed,
Eva Northcutt Rainey

g. George Pleasant, on Sept. 4, 1932, gave the following statement to William Stokely Northcutt:

"Alexander Northcutt moved to Acworth, formerly called Northcutt Station, with his family from near Campbellton, Campbell Co., Ga., and operated a tavern on the site of the Old Humphries home across from the depot."

"Alfred M. Northcutt first lived on the Old Strickland Place, N. Main St., Acworth, and next his Old Home Place (now Arnold Place) north of Acworth, where I was born and reared. Moved into Acworth on property later owned by J. B. Rainey, next door to J. L. Nichols' old home about one year before Alfred M. died. Both my father and mother died there."

George Pleasant is retired after fifty years of continuous service with the railroad as conductor and in other capacities.

"Rev. Benjamin F. Northcutt, born in Montgomery Co., Ky. in 1820, youngest of eight children. His father was Hosea Northcutt, a farmer and carpenter, born in Virginia, was a son of Jeremiah Northcutt, a native of Wales, who accompanied his father, Colliver, of London, to the United States in Colonial days. Upon return to Colliver to the old country, he was shipwrecked and laid on the wreck of the vessel six days.
Hosea Northcutt was a companion of Daniel Boone, and in 1828 emigrated to Ralls Co., Mo. Rev. Benjamin moved to Kirksville, Mo. in 1868, and for the past twenty years (1887) he and his son, Hosea, have been engaged in ministerial duties. "I met Rev. Hosea Northcutt thirty years ago. He was an evangelist of the Christian Church and a finer man never breathed. . . Grandpa said fifty-odd years ago that they could never trace any relationship, although the family given names are similar." (Letter from John W. Northcutt, Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 28, 1938)

"The Bible records shown above were taken from the Bible of William Northcutt, now in the possession of Mrs. Holman, who received it from her father, Thomas Dillard Northcutt. When her father was very young his mother, Elinor (Ellis) Northcutt thought she was going to die and gave little Thomas to her mother-in-law, Anna Northcutt, to raise. When Elinor recovered she wished to have her son again, but Anna would not give him back. So, Thomas Was raised in the household of his grandparents and inherited William Northcutt's Bible." (Letter from Mrs. Don C. Chamberlin.)

"I, Mrs. Don C. Ch. nberlin, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of old Bible record, now in possession of Mrs. Archie Holman. Subscribed and sworn to this 24th day of Sept., 1937, Tom Green County, Tex.

William and Anne (Moore) Northcutt moved from Virginia to Kentucky in 1799. ("Goodspeed's History of Newton Co., Mo.")

   "George E. Northcutt (Bourbon township) farmer and stock raiser . . . is one of the neatest and most business-like farmers of Bourbon township. He came to this county in 1868 from Boone Co., Mo. where he was reared, and bought a farm of nearly two hundred acres—the place on which he still resides. Mr. Northcutt's dwelling house is one of the best in this part of the country and his farm is likewise well improved. His farm is devoted to both grain growing and stock raising and in the last named line he has some as fine sheep and short-horned cattle as there are in the county . . . Mr. and Mrs. Northcutt are members of the Oak Chapel Church." ("Hist, of Callaway Co., Mo. publ. 1884, pg. 568)

"Eli Northcutt died at the home of his daughter, Nancy Ellis Northcutt Miller, at St. Elmo, Tex. . . . His grave is the third one in the Carl Cemetery, 18 miles southeast of Austin, Tex." (Letter from Mrs. Ella Miller Tumey, May 4, 1938.) Correct date of his death was Sept. 9, 1882.

"During the War Between the States, Nancy (Northcutt) Miller saved the flat silver by sewing it up in skirts; putting it in a mattress and hurriedly putting one of the children to bed with 'measles' just as some Northern soldiers arrived; and on another occasion by burying it. The spoons were of coin silver and could be bent in the hand. I have seen the silver." Betty Miller.

"Winston Dudley and Nancy Northcutt Miller left Newton Co., Mo. in Sept. 1865 to make their home in Travis Co., Tex. The town nearest their home was named 'St. Elmo.' by their daughter Nancy Isabel Miller." (Letter from Mrs. Tumey.)

"Several years before Nancy Northcutt Miller died, two of her old slaves came to see her; both were Baptist preachers. Mrs. Miller said that her slaves turned out better than her children—they were preachers and her children were not." Betty Miller.

In the Bible of William Northcutt, quoted from above, he mentions his father Richard Northcutt. (See pg. 1, Kentucky Branch, Northcutt Family.)

Those who appreciate this volume are indebted to Miss Elizabeth Ellis (Betty) Miller for research work done in the Congressional Library, Washington, D. C., from which she contributed many old records pertaining to the Northcutt Family. She copied records from the Bible of Winston Dudley and Nancy Northcutt Miller which were certified Sept. 23, 1937, Austin, Tex.

"Homer J. Northcutt . . . Jeremiah Northcutt, grandfather of the subject of this review, was a native of Virginia and he emigrated in 1787 to what is now the southern part of Kenton Co., Ky., when that state was still a portion of the colony of Va. He became an extensive land holder in this section and upon the farm which he reclaimed from the virgin forest in the pioneer days was born the father of him whose name introduces this article. The old Northcutt homestead is still in possession of lineal descendants of Jeremiah Northcutt.

Homer J. Northcutt was reared on the home farm in Grant Co. in the development of which he early assisted his father . . . in 1903 he removed to Covington . . . In 1906 the firm of Northcutt brothers was established . . . in Covington, (Homer J. and James E.) Mr. Northcutt is a Democrat. . . In a fraternal way affiliated with the time honored Masonic fraternity . . . the Commandery, Knight Templars . . ."

Report of Brig. Gen. James S. Rains, Mo. State Guard (C. S. A.) August 3, 1861. . . .

I have to report the loss of one officer (Lt. Northcutt) . . . (Skirmish at Dug Springs, Mo.) Pg. 50, Vol. III, "War of Rebellion" by Scott.

The Kentucky Branch of the Northcutt Family,, descendants of John through Richard, are to be complimented upon the preservation of their family Bibles from which this continuous family record was taken. They are also fortunate that so many civil records, such as wills, deeds and marriage records, have been preserved in the old courthouses. With the aid of the U. S. Census Records and the above mentioned records their residence and migrations have been established. It is regretable that more living members of this family could not be contacted, but after two years research it was decided to publish all available data.

No explanation can be given to the statement of Rev. Benjamin F. Northcutt where he states that his grandfather was Jeremiah, a native of Wales and that his great-grandfather was Colliver, of London, who came to the United States in Colonial days. No sufficient research has been done, as yet, to establish the Northcutt immigrants to America.

In 1875 he removed to La Fayette Co., Mo. where he resided until 1888 . . . he took up his residence in Springfield . . . and devoted himself to real-estate business. . . Mr. Northcutt has crossed the plains six times and can furnish all the information one may desire regarding the trip in earlier and latter days. He served in all the Indian wars on the Pacific coast from 1851 to 1864, and in the latter year was with Col. Curry in an expedition after the Modocs, Snakes and Diggers . . . "

THE NORTHCUTT FAMILY:—TENN. BRANCH.
(sometimes spelled Northcote)

There are numerous legends and traditions concerning the Northcutt family in its various branches; and, I shall include two of these here. It has been my observation during my research that all tradition is based on truth.

"About the year 1806, when Tennessee was almost a boundless wilderness and Warren County little more than one vast forest, John Northcutt, a soldier of the Revolution, brought his family consisting of his wife, Lyncia England Northcutt and eleven children from Lee Co., Virginia, and settled on Town Creek (not far from where the present Irving College stands) in Warren Co., Tenn. There he cleared the forest, hewed logs and built his modest home. Despite his simple life in the new country he was a lineal descendent of Lord Northcutt, an English nobleman.

Little is known of his early life. His manhood was spent in active service for his country. He was with Washington during the siege of Yorktown and was present when Cornwallis surrendered. After suffering all the privations and hardships which tested the patriotism of the soldiers of the Revolution he thought his duty done. Yet, at the outbreak of the Creek Indians in Alabama, in 1811, he was among the first Tennessee Volunteer to avenge the massacre of Fort Minns.

Later he was one of Jackson's famous Tennessee riflemen at New Orleans, where in January 1815 he met death of an American soldier in honorable battle. Richard, his eldest son, was killed or died in this great battle also. Of his death little has ever been known.

John Northcutt's wife, Lyncia, left on the farm in Tennessee, had now to rear her fatherless children alone, and with that dauntless courage and self-reliance which marked the women of that period, she hid away her double grief and took up the burden of living. John Northcutt and wife, Lyncia England Northcutt had children: Richard (died at New Orleans); William; Archibald and Isaac, and four daughters who went west and of them I know nothing. Adrian married Sarah Cope. James married Susan Hammond. James remained in Warren County.

"Richard was born 1790, died 1815."

(This letter was sworn to and accepted by the "Daughter of the American Revolution" at a Board Meeting, April 18, 1931, for Mrs. Martin of 3801 Richland Ave., Nashville, Tenn. The data was given to her by the Rev. L. N. Northcutt.)

In supplement to the above article I would add:

"I am enclosing you a copy of the Northcutt record, and the one on which Mamma joined the D. A. R. in 1931 (the above). Also, I am giving the names of John Northcutt's children: Richard, the oldest who died in the battle of New Orleans, Adrian, Mamma's (Mrs. Martin) grandfather, born October 13, 1799, James, John, William, Nancy, Min Jennie, Archibald and Isaac.

This John Northcutt was a private in Capt. Chas. Fleming's Company of the 7th Virginia Regiment, under the command of Alexander McCleanachan, Esq., commencing 1st of June and terminating the last day of June, 1777. I am also quoting to you a part of a letter of Mrs. Blanche Bentley, who is an authority on such matters. She says 'John Northcutt's oldest son was Richard. My Virginia Census, 1782, shows Richard Northcutt living in Powhatan Co., in that year; 8 whites in family and four blacks,' ".

(Taken from a letter from Mrs. Cleo Martin Duke, descendant of John Northcutt. Letter dated June 14, 1936.)

will be 70 yrs. old Dec. 19, next.

Became acquainted with Francis Northcutt during War of the Revolution in Charlotte County, Va.; that their fathers lived in one mile of each other. After Northcutt left for army, between 1777 and 1780, Hailey's father sold out in Charlotte and moved to Henry Co., Va., before Francis Northcutt's return. In a few years after Hailey's father moved, Francis Northcutt's father purchased a tract of land in 1 mile of witness's father in Henry Co., for said Francis Northcutt. Well acquainted with him ever since.

"The record of John, as given by Mrs. Cleo Martin Duke, serving as a Rev. soldier, is also verified by the Va. Hist. Society, June 21, 1938. I call your attention to the fact that if John had been 19 years old when he enlisted, he was born 1758, and Francis was born 1760, he stated in his pension application; therefore he surely was a brother to Francis, rather than his son." Dolly Northcutt.

"Rev. Benjamin Northcott . . . His parents emigrated to that colony from Virginia some time previous to his birth. This was the only family of that name of which I ever heard in North Carolina, but they are numerous in Va. There is quite a number of Northcott families in Ky., all the ancestors of whom, except my father, emigrated from Va. As far as I have been able to learn they all came from the same original stock. Early in the settlement of Va. a family of Northcotts settled there from England, from whom have descended all the families of that name in the south and west. There is, however, a difference in the orthography of the name; those who came from N. C. spell it Northcott, while those from Virginia spell it Northcutt or Northcut. This is easily accounted for without supposing a distinction of origin, as it would be an easy transition from o to u or from t to two of the same. Besides this it has been remarked by those who knew both families in Ky. that there is a striking similarity in them of both form, features and especially in the peculiar structure of the eye. It is the common tradition of both families that our ancestry is from England. The name Northcote is common there, while we know of no family elsewhere approaching anything like so nearly to our name . . . Benjamin . . . was only in his sixth year when the war of the Revolution broke out. His father was a Whig and ardently espoused the cause of the colonies. . . . " Chap. I, "Biography of Rev. Benj. Northcott" by Rev. H. C. Northcott, 1875.

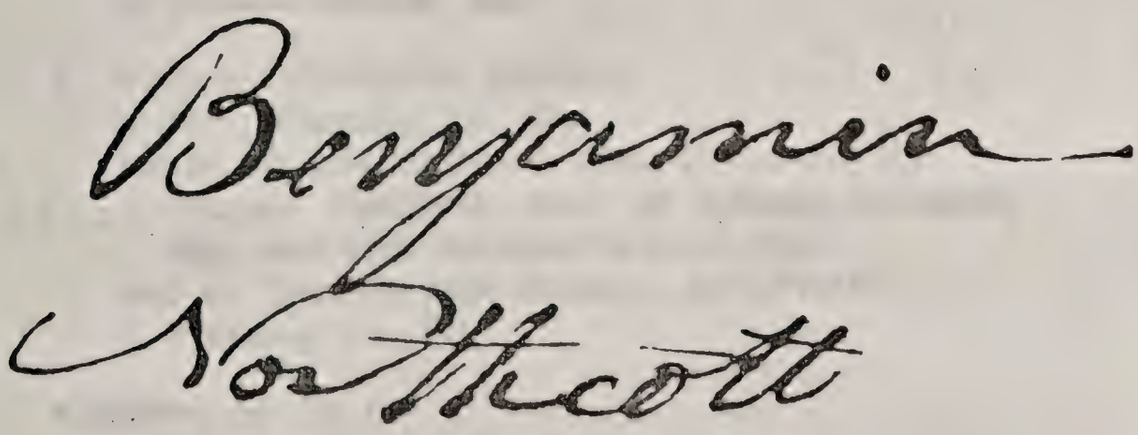
"Benjamin Northcott was admitted on trial at the second conference (Methodist Episcopal Church) that was held in Ky. at Masterson's Station, May 1, 1792 and appointed that year to the Lexington Circuit . . . For extraordinary powers, Benjamin Northcott excelled." "Hist. of Ky." by Collins.



This cut of the signature of Benjamin Northcott is an exact reproduction of his signature contributed by Mrs. Kate Clagett Duncan.

"The Northcott Family, from the Memoirs of Sarah Northcott Patton."
"About the year 1767 three brothers, Benjamin, Hosea and William Northcott emigrated from England and settled in Virginia (all fishermen out of an English seaport). They all raised families and all fought in the Revolutionary War on the side of the colonies. A son of one died in the army during the siege of Yorktown.

A son of one of them came early to Kentucky and is the ancestor of a very large number who live in Bourbon, Montgomery, Grant, Boone, Pendleton and Kenton Counties.

Our great-grandfather, William, of the original three, emigrated from Virginia to North Carolina either before or during the Revolution, and was living there at the time of the surrender of Cornwallis. Our grandfather, Benjamin, (1770-1854), although a small boy, remembers the joy the news gave them. Being the oldest son according to the laws of North Carolina, our grandfather was heir to his father's estate; a plantation and slaves which he signed over to his next younger brother and left for Kentucky as one of a guard for an emigrant train . . .

Two of his brothers settled in Tennessee. Gen. Robert S. Northcott of Clarksburg, W. Va. is a son of one of them, William Northcott, Lt. Governor of Ill. is his son; another son, Robert, is a banker; another, Gustavus Vasa, merchant, Huntington, W. Va.; Naomi, at home with her father; Adah, teacher, Huntington, W. Va., and Elliot, U. S. Judge for W. Va." Contirbuted by Mr. William Patton.

"We derive the history of our branch of the Northcott family partly from authenticated records and partly from tradition handed down from parent to child. The following is authentic: Two, (perhaps three) brothers of the Northcott name settled in Va. early in 1600. One(perhaps two) of the brothers later joined the colony of Edenton, N. C. Hosea Northcutt died in Edenton about 1650. N. C. records show three Northcotts from Edenton soldiered in N. C. in the Revolutionary War. One of these was William Northcott, my great-grandfather . . . He had a son Benjamin who went to Ky. when 18 yrs. old . . . my father, James H. Northcott settled in Ill. about 1840. . . My father knew well Rev. Andrew Northcutt (notice different spelling of name) also of Ill. Andrew told my father that tradition in his family was like that in ours - of two or three brothers coming into Va. together from England, and that the name originally was Northcott, and that one of his ancestors in Va. changed the spelling from Northcott to Northcutt. Rev. Andrew Northcutt was of Kentucky before going to Ill. . . I have a book giving account of James Northcott (pub. 1833), a celebrated pupil of Reynold, who, like Reynold, was a noted artist. That book tells of Northcotes and Northcotts, but nowhere spells the name Northcutt. I never heard of a Northcutt in England; yet, I have a strong belief that the Northcutts, Northcotes, and Northcotts are from the same stock." (Excerpts of letter from Theodore C. Northcott, July 29, 1938.)

The following is an exerpt from a letter from Mrs. Idell Marlowe Heggie of Marietta, Georgia, granddaughter of Elijah Dorsett, dated Nov. 23, 1936: "I visited my grandmother and grand father Dorsett at Summerville, Chattooga Co., Ga. when nine years old. Annie Richardson was my grandmother and her husband's name was Elijah Dorsett. We do not know exactly where he was born, if not Charleston, S. C., it was some place very near. After marriage he moved from Charleston to Georgia and was living at Summerville at the time of my visit.

He was the first white settler in Chattooga County and bought up land from the Indians until he owned more land than anyone in the country. He and his wife were friendly with the Indians and well liked by them. Later on some of the rich Charleston relatives began driving over in carriages every summer, they provided themselves with cottages and began to refer to the place as Summerville, and finally a town arose by that name.

Elijah Dorsett entertained crowds of company. It seems he built himself a race track and crowds from Rome and surrounding country would come for races. I think he enjoyed all the gayety and company more than his wife did. He made a trip twice a year to Augusta for supplies, the trip took him about a month. He had nine children." HOWELL FAMILY

Genealogy of the Howell Family—1818, from "Jefferson Davis," A Memoir by his wife, Varina Howell Davis.—1890.

"My grandfather, Major Richard Howell, was born in Delaware . . . His great-grandfather was a Howell of Caerleon, Monmouth Co. One of the sons moved to Caerphilly, Glamorganshire, Wales, where he was "seated" until he moved to Delaware about 1690 and became a large planter there. One of his daughters married Col. John Read, "the signer." Richard, the father of William B. Howell, was a practising lawyer in Mt. Holly, New Jersey, before the Revolution, and his only brother, Lewis, was a surgeon.

Richard Howell married Keziah Burr, a member of the Society of Friends, and upon the breaking out of the war of the Revolution, he joined the Continental forces among the first and raised a company . . . Major Richard Howell, of the New Jersey Continental line, was born in Delaware in 1753. He first signaled his patriotism in Nov. 1774 by assisting in destroying the tea landed by the Greyhound, at Greenwich, N. J.

In 1775, Richard Howell was captain of the Fifth Company, Second Battalion . . . New Jersey line . . . February 1776, he accompanied his battalion to Canada, in the expedition against Quebec, and his company fired the first gun on the plains of Abraham. Sept. 1776, appointed Major, Second Regiment, New Jersey troops, Gen. Maxwell's brigade, Major-General Stevens' division. Major Howell participated in the battles of Brandywine, Germantown, and Monmouth, with such marked distinction as to merit and receive the commendation of General Washington.

The day before the battle of Monmouth Major Howell had leave of absence to visit his dying twin brother, Surgeon Lewis Howell; but the unexpected near approach of the armies led him to remain, and, prepared as he was for his journey in citizen's clothes, to fight in the ranks as a private. Gen. Washington commended him warmly for his self- sacrifice. When the battle was over he was too late and never saw his brother afterwards.

At the personal solicitation of Gen. Washington, he was selected . . . to go upon a secret mission of an honorable character to New York, which was then in possession of the British. He not only accomplished the object of his mission, but secured a quantity of clothing for the ragged troops, for which he personally paid. He made no claim to have the money returned, and never received it.

After the war, Major Howell returned to the practise of law, and in the course of time became Chancellor of the state.

The New Jersey State Gazette of May 4, 1802 says: "In 1788 he (Richard Howell) was appointed clerk of the Supreme Court, which office he held until 1793, when he was elected Governor of the state, to which honorable station he was for eight terms, re-elected successfully. From failing health, he declined another tender of the office.

"With a highly cultivated mind and improved understanding, Governor Howell displayed a heart of unbounded benevolence, and a temper easy and equable, and manners polite and engaging."

He died on Wednesday "preceding" the 4th of May 1802.

Governor Howell's daughter, Sarah (Mrs. James Agnew, Pittsburg, Penn.), with General James Chesnut's mother, were appointed, with ten other young ladies of high social position, to scatter flowers in Gen. Washington's path at the Trenton bridge, and Governor Howell wrote the poetic welcome which was recited upon his arrival.

My father, William Burr Howell, was the fourth son of Governor Richard Howell and Keziah Burr. When quite young he was appointed an officer in the Marine Corps, and served with distinction under Commodore Decatur in the War of 1812 in the engagements on the lakes . . . His brother, Franklin Howell, was killed by a splinter on the President . . .

After peace was declared, my father came in 1815 in a flat-boat down to Natchez to look at the country; he was then an officer on half-pay and on leave . . .

pg. 187 My father, W. B. Howell, lived in a large, old-fashioned house called "The Briers" on a "bluff" near Natchez, Miss.

On February 26, 1845, at "The Briers," in the presence of my family and some of his, we (Varina Howell and Jefferson Davis)) were married.

1878—Beauvoir House was owned and occupied by Mrs. Sarah A. Dorsey . . . Mrs. Dorsey sold Beauvoir House to Mr. Davis at a fair valuation.

MILLER-RAMEY FAMILIES

Winston Dudley Miller, farmer
b. Jan. 13, 1831, Cumberland Co., Ky.
m. Nancy Ellen Ellis Northcutt.
See Northcutt Family
c. April 14, (Friday) 1905, Travis Co., Tex.

War Record: The records show that one Winston Dudley Miller, private Company G, 8th Regiment, Missouri Infantry, Confederate States Army, enlisted Aug. 10, 1862 in Barry Co., Mo. Company Muster Roll for January and February, 1864, last on file, shows him present . . . His personal description is recorded as follows: Age 27 years, eyes, grey; hair, dark; height 5 ft. 7 in.; complexion, dark.

War Department, Washington, D. C.
Mch. 10, 1932

Signed,
C. H. Bridges,
Major General.

The father and mother of Winston Dudley Miller were born in Virginia, and removed to Kentucky.

"Almost all of the early settlers of Bryan Station were deeply religious. Many families had left Virginia because of persecutions there. p. 49.
("The Traveling Church" by Ranck)
They were mostly of the Baptist faith and very strict in their belief . . . When peace was established the settlers had scattered and it was not until Apr. 15, 1786 that a number gathered at the station . . . organized a church. This organization was designated 'Particular' Baptist Church - Bryan. The word 'Particular' being used to show that the organization was what is sometimes known as the 'Hardshell' Baptist . . . The Rev. Ambrose Dudley was the first regular pastor of this church, and a life long servant of the neighborhood. Names given in the church records show that many of Kentucky's most prominent families were members there during the passing years." On page 51 shows William Ellis Sr. as signing the first minutes of Bryan Station Church.
On page 52 Salley Ellis and Ann Dudley were received into fellowship. William Ellis was chosen one of the Elders.

On page 56 (note:) "It would be safe to assume that partically every man whose name is given in this list had served at some time as a member of the Militia . . . Many men had seen service in the battles of the Revolution, practically all had taken part in battles against the Indians. This positive proof of their residence in Fayette Co. and in some cases the dates of their death should be most valuable to those wishing to 'place' their ancestors of pioneer days."

THE FAMILIES OF RIDLEY, RIDLON, Etc.
pg. 533. Pub. 1883.

Ridleys' of Wake Co., N. C. (Virginia Branch)

William Ridley (1) was descended from the Ridley family of Southampton Co., Va. and was presumably a son of William Ridley, who settled in the county Isle of Wight, Virginia, in the early part of the eighteenth century. Some descendants of this William say he was born in England or Wales. He went from Virginia to Gates Co., N. C. when a young man, and thence removed to Wake Co., where he married Elizabeth, daughter of Howell and Isabella Lewis. (She was born Apr. 10, 1761) of Granville Co., where Mr. Ridley made his permanent residence. He was a farmer by occupation; died in the prime of life (previous to 1810, leaving four children. The family residence and plantation were sold by Mrs. Ridley to a Mr. Montague in 1810.

Second generation.

Col. Howell Lewis Ridley (1) a son of William (1) and his wife Elizabeth Lewis, born in Wake Co., N. C. about 1776; married Mildred Cobb and lived on a farm in Granville Co., until the death of his wife, when he went to Oxford, and lived with his only son, of whom more hereafter. I do not know how he came by the title of colonel. He may have been in the War of 1812. He was a cultivated gentleman, wealthy, and very fond of sporting with fine horses and dogs. He died in 1823, Oxford, N. C.

pg. 534

Dr. James Day Ridley (1) a son of William (1) was born in Wake or Granville County, and had issue two sons, of whom more hereafter. One relatve says James was the eldest son. He was graduated in Philadelphia, settled as a physician at Wake Forest, N. C. and stood high in his profession. Was a handsome and popular man; his family connections and fine conversational powers gave him extensive influence. In his account book, written by himself, is the following: "I commenced the practice of physic at Capt. Robert Crenshaw's, July 18, 1810; left there May 18, 1811." He died in 1820, leaving a fine estate of 400 or 500 acres, and a spacious residence. In his will he left one third to his wife, and one third to each of his 2 sons; but in case the sons died childless the wife was to have one half, and the other half was to go to relatives. Mrs. Ridley was a large, dignified lady, descended from a family as good as found in the state; she deceased in 1850, leaving her property, which consisted of land and slaves, to Elbert Chuk, a nephew and Ann Elizabeth, wife of Dr. H. W. Montague, a niece.

Willis Ridley (1) a son of William (1) was born in Granville Co., N. C.; married Mary W. Smith, of Granville Co., and moved to Mt. Pleasant, Maury Co., Tenn. about 1809, where he died at the age of 52 leaving a widow and six children, of whom more hereafter. Mr. Ridley was a farmer.

Mary Ridley (1) only daughter of William (1) was born in Granville Co., N. C. and married to Col. Nathaniel Roberts, of Granville Co. She was the mother of eleven children.

Third generation.

John—Cobb Ridley (1) only son of Howell (1) was born in Granville Co., N. C. in 1810; married 1829 to Amelia Todd, and for a while resided on a farm in the county; but in 1825 moved to Oxford, where he lived for a few years. He died in Washington City in 1838 leaving a widow and three children, of whom hereafter. Mr. Ridley was a farmer by occupation. He was a cultivated gentleman. His widow married a lawyer named Jeremiah Hilliard and is now living at Scottsville, Harrison Co., Tex. a very old lady.

William—James Ridley (2) a son of James (1) was born in Wake Co., N. C. in 1817 and died when a young man without issue; his age was 24 years. Willed all of his property to his mother.

John—Alston Ridley (2) a son of James (1) was born in Wake Co., N. C. in 1819 and died without issue in 1850. He was married. Left property by will to his wife and Ridley family.

Mary—Ann Ridley (2) eldest daughter of Willis (1) was born in Maury Co., Tenn. and became the wife of a Mr. Conner and has three children.

Eliza Ridley (1) second daughter of Willis (1) was born in Maury Co., Tenn. and died young.

James R. Castleberry, a prominent merchant and manufacturer of Longview, Tex., was for years a quiet but important factor in accomplishing worthwhile undertakings at that place. He lived without political ambition and manifested an interest in public affairs only as a contributor to progress. He was for years a member of the firm of Castleberry - Flewellen and Co., one of the leading mercantile businesses of that section, and subsequently engaged in the planing mill business of the same name. He was one of the organizers of the Citizen's National Bank and had many other material interests in the enterprises of Gregg Co. He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. (From "Texas and Texans," Vol. 3, pg. 1365, pub. by Ame. Hist. Society of Chicago and New York, 1914) Dec. 15, 1917 he executed a deed to trustees of "Elmira Chapel" at Spring Hill for 240 x 750 varas in lieu of a deed he had previously given which had been lost. (Bk. 34, pg. 124, Deed Records, Gregg Co., Tex.) The above church and land was to be used for religious and educational purposes as shown in the deed, and was named for his mother, Elmira Pierce Castleberry. This land is now in the rich East Texas oil field and supports a beautiful church, school and teachery.

signed to James Williamson? Warrant to issue in his name. Issued Feb. 1, 1779."

The following letter from William Rowland Gober, a minister, and grandson of William Gober and Lucy Appling, to Mrs. D. C. Jones, Aug. 13, 1902, gives much genealogical data:

The letter in part:

"Our grandfather, William Gober, was a resident of North Carolina. He was a man of means, plantation and slaves, with good position in the community. My father, Daniel Gober, was by his second marriage. His mother's maiden name was Appling. My Mother's (Elizabeth Arrendall) parents lived in Franklin County, Ga., where she was born, Dec. 29, 1797. Her father was a SOLDIER of the REVOLUTION, and died of exposure and wounds received during that long and trying struggle. His widow, Susannah(Seawell) Arrendall, was the only one of my grandparents I ever saw. She visited us several times within my recollection. She was short and fat but a hustler and could make things "go." Daniel Gober and Elizabeth Arrendall were married when he was twenty-four and she was "sweet sixteen," nearly. When Daniel's father made his will he showed his dis-satisfaction with the boy's marriage by willing him "five dollars—and no more." The self reliant boy and his gritty young wife refused the paltry pittance. They settled in the Shallowford on the Chattahoochee river in De Kalb County. As their children grew the need for better educational advantages increased, so, in the summer of 1834 they moved to Tennessee."

PAYNE-ELEY FAMILIES

The Payne family is a very old one in America, and many, many privately printed and published records of the family exist. It is the opinion of the compiler of this record of a small branch of this family that it descends from the Paynes of Virginia. There is a tradition which has been handed down to the many descendants that Randolph Payne, whose name appears in this record, was a lineal descendant of the Randolph family ofVirginia, and, through it, of the Indian Princess, Pocahontas. This line is under research at this time.

The Eley family is also an old one in this country. "Persons of quality who went from Great Britain to the Plantations of America" by J. C. Hotten, pg. 258, is found:

"Robert Eelie embarked on the ship 'Primrose,' under Capt. Douglass, when 14 years old, July 27, 1635."

"Robert Eley obtained a grant of 600 acres in Isle of Wight Co., Va., for the transportation of himself and eleven other persons on Sept. 17, 1639." "Isle of Wight Land Patents," pg. 670, Land Patent Office, Richmond, Va.

The records show that many descendants of this Robert Eley lived in Isle of Wight Co., Va., and the given names of their children are identical with the given names of the later line shown in this volume. (Under research at this time.)

Both the Payne and Eley lines boast their Coats-of Arms.

THE ROBINSON FAMILY

"John Robinson, 16 year old immigrant to Virginia on the 'Thomas and John', June 6, 1635." I do not know where this was found, but it might point the way to the first Robinson immigrant. (Letter from Mrs. Edwin Lang, Dec. 9, 1937.)

"George Washington mentions a John Robinson, apparently a Virginian who was interested in land in the Dismal Swamp in 1763-64. The swamp is on the Virginia-North Carolina line, just north of Chowan County. (about pg. 188 in Vol. 1) There might be some connection. (Letter from Miss Emma Katherine Anderson.) The boundary between Va. and N. C. was surveyed and settled in 1728, running through the Dismal Swamp. The division of Carolina into North and South Carolina was made in 1729. Chowan was one of the earliest counties of North Carolina, having been Chowan Precinct in Albemarle County.

William Robinson, member of House of Commons from Anson County, 1793-94-97, pg. 23, "Hist. of N. C.," by Wheeler.

Luke Robinson, Anson Co., one of the regulators and signers of the petition (July 21, 1768) advocating election of court officers by the people. (Colonial Records of N. C.)

"Luke Robinson appears in Anson County, 1771, as one of the Regulators from that county, he having presented a petition to Gov. Tryon in the interest of the Regulators." (W. H. Bason, Genealogist.)

Deed of Luke Robinson from William Lewis, 1774, Anson Co. Deed from Luke Robinson and wife, Christian C. Robinson, 1774, Anson Co.

Anson County was erected in 1749 from Bladen County; Richmond County was formed in 1779 from Anson. pg. 351, "Hist. of N. C." by Wheeler.

The fact that John, William, Luke and Christian are family names in the Robinson family; these references are shown as a possibility of their relationship.

(N. C. and S. C. Marriage Records, by Clemens.)
d. 1816, Jasper Co., Ga., See Will.

In the above will reference is made to the two grandsons, John and William. JOHN ROBINSON, above was no doubt a grandson, not a son, and if his birth date was 1753 he could have been the one referred to. Some genealogist think that his wife, Lydia, was a widow; however, Richard Brinn witnessed the will of William Haugton of Chowan Co., Nov. 17, 1749. ("Abstracts of N. C. Wills," by Grimes, pg. 158.) Could he have been her father?

The descendants of JOHN ROBINSON have been told that he fought in the Revolutionary War. Below are references to John and William Robinson. Were the grandsons referred to in the will?

"Issued 15 June, 1785, to Mr. John Robinson . . . 44 days military service, 1782. Bk. S, No. 298, "Claims against South Carolina growing out of the Revolution"; and from same reference, Bk. V, No. 280, issued July 27, 1785, to John Robinson for duty as Sgt., 1781-82." See "Marion's Men" by Wm. W. Boddie, pg. 20. On same page is shown "William Robinson," Bk. S, No. 19.

It is not known when JOHN ROBINSON arrived in Georgia, but he was in Oglethorpe Co. in 1806 as his daughter, Lucy, married there.

Lt. Co. I, 27th Miss. Infantry, C. S. A. under his nephew, Capt. A. J. Harris.

The above data on the family of James Lyon and Martha Robinson Burks was copied from the Bible of Thomas Harris Jr. by his son, Robert Emmett Lee Harris for Capt. Andrew Jackson Harris, and contributed by Mrs. May Harris Walker.

Thomas Jefferson Burks, youngest son of James Lyon and Martha Robinson Burks, wrote Aug. 17, 1908: "I heard my father say that my grandmother said she had molded bullets when a small girl for her father to fight in the Revolutionary War. (The grandmother was Lydia Brinn Robinson.) . . . I have heard my father say he was in the fight at Talladega in the War of 1812. I think my father was born in Tenn., went in the army from that state which you have the war record from." Thomas Jefferson Burks once said that his father was dressy, wore black broadcloth and linen shirts that were ruffled. He wouldn't let the negroes feed his fine hogs but fed them himself in his broadcloth and ruffles.

Addenda, Northcott

Mrs. Mary Sousley has a picture of the homestead of Rev. Benj. Northcott, located on his farm in Fleming Co., Ky. which burned in 1935. Daniel Boone had stayed there and Simon Kenton had made it his headquarters on his trip through that region. Rev. Benj. and his wife, Martha Odell Northcott, were buried in the family plot on the farm; inscribed on his gravestone is: "He was 63 years a minister of the Gospel in the M. E. Church." Some years ago their remains were removed to the cemetery in Flemingsburg, Ky., the original tops of the gravestones were laid flat on each grave.

Will Bk. 1, pg. 390, Fleming Co., Ky. Court Records filed Feb. 27, 1856 by W. T. Dudley, Clerk, can be found the will of Benj. Northcott. Exerpts are as follows: "In the name of God, Amen. I, Benjamin Northcott of the Co. of Fleming and the State of Kentucky being far gone in life but of perfect mind and memory do make and ordain this my last will and testament." He names "my beloved wife, Martha; my sons Henry C. and Joseph B.; Nancy Vanzandt; my sons William, Benjamin and James; my daughter Fanny Pettijohn; her child, Huldah; my daughter Drusilla; my daughter Martha Pettijohn." Contributed by Mrs. Kate Clagett Duncan.
